Hy-Lite/U S Block Windows Launches
Builder Model Home Program

PENSACOLA, FLA. – Builders eager to set themselves apart in their marketplaces are getting help from Hy-Lite/ U S Block Windows. The acrylic block and decorative glass window manufacturer has just announced a new Builder Model Home Program that provides free specialty windows to builders planning to construct 30 or more homes within a 12 month timeframe.

Builders must install Hy-Lite/U S Block Windows operable units (such as casements, single hungs, sliders, awning and hopper windows) to participate in the program. The operable units are available in a wide variety of decorative glass styles and acrylic block privacy options, many of which can be created to meet local egress code specifications.

“This Model Home Program represents a ‘win-win-win’ for builders nationwide,” says Roger Murphy, president of U S Block Windows, Inc. “The builder receives free windows for his model home unit that showcase his creativity in product selection. He sets his homes apart with these energy-efficient units while answering the homeowners’ needs for privacy in select settings like bathrooms, bedrooms and basements. And, he is able to incorporate an egress unit that offers ventilation to homeowners throughout the house.”

To participate in the program, builders should contact their window distributor or dealer for details.
